Chapter 7

Offerings at the Tabernacle's Consecration

On the day when Moses had finished setting up the tabernacle and had anointed and consecrated it with all its furnishings and had anointed and consecrated the altar with all its utensils, 2 the chiefs of Israel, heads of their fathers' houses, who were the chiefs of the tribes, who were over those who were listed, approached 3 and brought their offerings before the LORD, six wagons and twelve oxen, a wagon for every two of the chiefs, and for each one an ox. They brought them before the tabernacle. 4 Then the LORD said to Moses, 5 "Accept these from them, that they may be used in the service of the tent of meeting, and give them to the Levites, to each man according to his service." 6 So Moses took the wagons and the oxen and gave them to the Levites. 7 Two wagons and four oxen he gave to the sons of Gershon, according to their service. 8 And four wagons and eight oxen he gave to the sons of Merari, according to their service, under the direction of Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest. 9 But to the sons of Kohath he gave none, because they were charged with the service of the holy things that had to be carried on the shoulder. 10 And the chiefs offered offerings for the dedication of the altar on the day it was anointed; and the chiefs offered their offering before the altar. 11 And the LORD said to Moses, "They shall offer their offerings, one chief each day, for the dedication of the altar." 12 He who offered his offering the first day was Nahshon the son of Amminadab, of the tribe of Judah. 13 And his offering was one silver plate whose weight was 130 shekels,^[a] one silver basin of 70 shekels, according to the shekel of the sanctuary, both of them full of fine flour mixed with oil for a grain offering; 14 one golden dish of 10 shekels, full of incense; 15 one bull from the herd, one ram, one male lamb a year old, for a burnt offering; 16 one male goat for a sin offering; 17 and for the sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five male goats, and five male lambs a year old. 7:1–89 See Ex 40, which describes the setting up of the tabernacle and ends with the report of the cloud covering and the presence of the Lord filling the tabernacle. With much repetition of language, this chapter (the longest in the Pentateuch) records the magnificent (and identical) gifts to the Lord for tabernacle service from the leaders of the 12 tribes. The fact that the record of these gifts follows the text of the Aaronic benediction (6:24–26) seems fitting: In response to God’s promise to bless his people, they bring gifts to him in 12 sequential days of celebrative pageantry. (CSB)

7:1 finished ... the tabernacle. Continues the story of the tabernacle from Lv 8:10–11. Out of gratitude for God’s mercy, “the chiefs of the tribes” (v 2) supplied consecrated items. Other gifts “for the dedication of the altar” (v 11) by each tribal representative are recorded in the same connection. The ceremony extended over a period of 12 days. (TLSB)

7:2 chiefs. Named in vv 12–83. (TLSB)

7:3 wagons. Needed to transport the tabernacle. (TLSB)

7:5 give them to the Levites. They cared for the tabernacle and transported it. Cf chs 3–4. (TLSB)

7:9 The most holy parts were treated/handled distinctly. (TLSB)

7:10 dedication of the altar. Cf Lv 9. (TLSB)

7:11 Offered over 12 days. (TLSB)

7:12–83 Gifts are listed individually in the roll call of the various leaders, though the gifts are identical. Repetition emphasizes that all tribes participated equally and that God looks for a response to His goodness from those who receive it. The tribal chiefs present their gifts in the same order as the arrangement of the camp (ch 2). (TLSB)

7:12–78 The leaders of the 12 tribes have already been named in 1:5–15; 2:3–32. The order of the presentation of their offerings to the Lord is the same as the order of march: first, the triad of tribes camped east of the tabernacle (Judah, Issachar and Zebulun: 2:3–9; 7:12, 18, 24); second, the triad camped to the south (Reuben, Simeon and Gad: 2:10–16; 7:30, 36, 42); third, the triad to the west (Ephraim, Manasseh and Benjamin: 2:18–24; 7:48, 54, 60); finally, those to the north (Dan, Asher and Naphtali: 2:25–31; 7:66, 72, 78). See diagram of “Encampment of the Tribes of Israel”. (CSB)

7:84–88 The totals of the 12 sets of gifts. (CSB)

Summary, which again emphasizes the equality of the offerings. (TLSB)

7:89 The climax: Communion is established between the Lord and his prophet. The people have an advocate with God. (CSB)

7:89 Describes how the Lord will speak with Moses now that the tabernacle is complete. It concludes what the Lord “said to Moses” (v 4) and the general introduction to the following series of divine directives, each of which is prefaced by “the LORD spoke” (8:1, 5, 23). (TLSB)

Ch 7 Each leader of the 12 tribes of Israel presents his offering to God at the tabernacle dedication. Leaders give thanks to God for bringing them out of Egypt to establish His covenant with them. The offerings of Israel commemorate God’s favor, which we still enjoy due to the sacrifice of Christ’s blood at Calvary (cf 1Co 5:7). • Father, for Your mercy we give You thanks and praise. Grant us generous hearts in offering thanks to You. Amen. (TLSB)
